Chuhak & Tecson P.C. principal Eileen M. Sethna served as a discussion facilitator for a luncheon Thursday titled "Closing the Confidence Gap."

Hosted by the women's group of the Chicago/Midwest chapter of Turnaround Management Association, small group discussions covered the differences between the self-confidence portrayed by men and women in professional settings and the challenges those differences may present in their daily working life.

Participants included female restructuring professionals, corporate leaders and lenders.

Sethna is a member of the firm's banking group and concentrates her practice in commercial litigation and bankruptcy matters with an emphasis on business reorganizations, creditor's rights and individual insolvencies.
